EMPOWERING WOMEN FARMERS

Stucom is pleased to invite you to the presentation of the outputs of the Erasmus+ Project “EMWOFA “

<http://www.emwofa.eu/>

Farming is the principal economic activity in most rural areas of the EU.
Without farming there would be little to keep many communities alive and hold them together.

If farming disappears, there will be a problem of land abandonment and a rise in unemployment .

Women farmers play a key role in the farm, but they usually have no access to formal vocational education.

“Emwofa” aims at giving these women the knowledge needed to run their farms and to develop their entrepreneurial and managerial skills to get the best of their farms and to encourage and attract others to run a rural business .

An important aim of this event is to offer networking opportunities and foster debate among the international participants who will join the event .

Mr Ferran Tarradellas Head of the Commission Representation in Barcelona
